2009 Legislative Update

Summary of Changes Affecting
Texas Probate, Guardianship, and Trust Law

© 2009 By William D. Pargaman, All Rights Reserved.

The Texas Legislature began its 81st Regular Session on January 13, 2009. The session ends June 1, 2009. This paper presents a summary of the bills relating to probate (i.e., decedents’ estates), guardianship, and trust law.

1. Introduction and Acknowledgments.

A lot of effort goes into the legislative process. In the best of circumstances, this effort is manifested by passing quality legislation and defeating poor legislation. Of course, each session some shoddy things slip through and other deserving things fail to pass. The reader can judge if the 2009 batch will be worth the effort.

A lot of the effort in the 2009 session, as in past sessions, will come from the Real Estate, Probate and Trust Law Section of the State Bar of Texas (“REPTL”). REPTL, with its approximately 7,000 members, has been active in proposing legislation in this area for more than 25 years. During the past two years, its Council, headed by Glenn Karisch of Austin (Immediate Past Chair) and Harry Wolff of San Antonio (Chair-Elect), and its legislative committees and their respective chairs (Mary Burdette of Dallas (Past Chair) and Jim Woo of San Antonio (Current Chair) – Probate, Linda Goehrs of Houston – Guardianships, and Bill Pargaman of Austin (Past Chair) and Shannon Guthrie of Dallas (Current Chair) – Trusts), worked hard to come up with a package which addresses the needs of its members and the public, and continue to work hard to get the package enacted into law. Austin lawyer Barbara Klitch provides invaluable service tracking legislation for REPTL.

REPTL is helped along the way by the State Bar, its Board of Directors, and its excellent staff (in particular, KaLyn Laney, the head of the Bar’s Legislation Department).

REPTL works closely with the Texas Academy of Probate and Trust Lawyers (Al Golden of Austin, Chair, Tom Featherston of Waco, Treasurer, and Clint Hackney, Lobbyist). The Academy is a group of attorneys who are board certified in Estate Planning and Probate Law and/or are members of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel (ACTEC) who go the extra mile and help support quality legislation in this area. Attorneys who are eligible for membership but who are not yet members should consider supporting this fine organization. You’ll find a membership application for the Academy at the end of this paper.

Other groups have an interest in legislation in this area, and REPTL tries to work with them to mutual advantage. These include the statutory probate judges (Judge Guy Herman of Austin, Presiding Statutory Probate Judge) and the Wealth Management and Trust Division of the Texas Bankers Association (Leslie Amann of Houston, Chair-Elect, Deborah Cox of Dallas, Governmental Relations Chair, and John Brigance, Executive Director).

Last, and of course not least, are the legislators and their capable staffs. In recent sessions, Rep. Will Hartnett of Dallas, Chair of the House Judiciary Committee, and Senator Jeff Wentworth of San Antonio, Chair of the Senate Committee on Jurisprudence, together with their staffs, have been particularly helpful and have worked particularly hard on legislation in this area. We anticipate their continued help. While Rep. Hartnett is still on the new House Committee on Judiciary & Civil Jurisprudence (which consolidates the old Judiciary and Civil Practices Committees), the new chair is Rep. Todd Hunter of Corpus Christi. Senator Wentworth remains chair of the Senate Committee on Jurisprudence. And this year, Senator Kirk Watson of Austin (also on the Jurisprudence Committee) helped us immensely by agreeing to sponsor all of our REPTL bills in the Senate.
Thanks go to all of these persons and the many others who have helped in the past and will continue to do so in the future.

2. The Players.\textsuperscript{1}

The \textit{dramatis personae} in our legislative drama are many and varied:

2.1. REPTL. The Real Estate, Probate and Trust Law Section of the State Bar of Texas, acting through its Council. Many volunteer Section members who are not on the Council give much of their time, energy and intellect in formulating REPTL-carried legislation. REPTL is not allowed to sponsor legislation or oppose legislation without the approval of the Board of Directors of the State Bar. There is no provision to support legislation offered by someone other than REPTL, and the ability of REPTL to react during the legislative session is hampered by the necessity for Bar approval. REPTL has received permission to carry its proposals discussed in this paper in the 2009 session and are identified as REPTL proposals.

2.2. The Academy. The Texas Academy of Probate and Trust Lawyers, a non-profit § 501(c)(6) organization composed of dues-paying members who are either Board Certified in Estate Planning and Probate Law or Fellows of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel (or both). Unfettered by Bar control, the Academy can react to legislation, negotiate compromises, or oppose or support legislation. One of its primary missions is to support REPTL legislation and legislation approved by the REPTL Council which does not have State Bar approval for one reason or another. The Academy has hired a lobbyist for many sessions, Clint Hackney, who has worked very hard, and has been a major contributor to the Academy’s success. The authors wear hats representing both REPTL and the Academy. Bill Pargaman and Glenn Karisch are the principal volunteers in the legislative process. As noted above, an Academy membership application is attached at the end of this paper for those eligible and interested.

2.3. The Statutory Probate Judges. The Texas Statutory Probate Judges hear the vast majority of probate and guardianship cases. Judge Guy Herman of the Probate Court No. 1 of Travis County (Austin) is the Presiding Statutory Probate Judge and has been very active in promoting legislative solutions to problems in our area for many years.

2.4. TBA. The Wealth Management and Trust Division of the Texas Bankers Association (“TBA”) represents the interests of corporate fiduciaries in Texas. While the interests of REPTL and TBA do not always coincide, the two groups have had an excellent working relationship during the past several sessions.

2.5. The Texas Legislative Council. Among other duties, the Texas Legislative Council provides bill drafting and research services to the Texas Legislature and legislative agencies. All proposed legislation must be reviewed (and usually revised) by the Legislative Council before a Representative or Senator may introduce it. In addition, as part of its continuing statutory revision program, the Legislative Council has embarked on, and is the primary drafter of, a nonsubstantive revision of the Texas Probate Code (discussed below). The portions of the Probate Code proposed for nonsubstantive revision by the 81st Legislature are under the direction of Maria Breitschopf of the Legislative Council’s legal staff. Questions, comments, or suggestions relating to the project may be directed to Ms. Breitschopf at P.O. Box 12128, Austin, Texas 78711, or 512-463-1155.

2.6. The Authors and Sponsors. All legislation needs an author, the Representative or Senator who introduces the legislation. A sponsor is the person who introduces a bill from the other house in the house of which he or she is a member. Many bills have authors in both houses originally, but either the House or Senate version will eventually be voted out if it is to become law; and so, for example, the Senate author of a bill may become the sponsor of a companion House bill when it reaches the Senate. In any event, the sponsor or author controls the bill and its fate in their respective house. Without the dedication of the various authors and sponsors, much of the legislative success of this session would not have been possible. The unsung heroes are the staffs of

3. The Process.

3.1. The Genesis of REPTL’s Package. REPTL\(^2\) begins work on its legislative package shortly after the previous legislative session ends. In August or September of odd-numbered years, the chairs of the main REPTL legislative committees (Decedents’ Estates, Guardianship, and Trust Code) put together lists of proposals for discussion by their committees. These items are usually gathered from a variety of sources. They may be ideas that REPTL Council or committee members come up with on their own, or they may be suggestions from practitioners around the state, accountants, law professors, legislators, judges – you name it. Most suggestions usually receive at least some review at the committee level.

3.2. Preliminary Approval by the REPTL Council. The full “PTL” or probate, guardianship, and trust law side of the REPTL Council reviews each committee’s suggestions and gives preliminary approval (or rejection) to those proposals at its Fall meeting (usually in September or October) in odd-numbered years. Draft language may or may not be available for review at this stage – this step really involves a review of concepts, not language.

3.3. Actual Language is Drafted by the Committees, With Council Input and Approval. Following the Fall Council meeting, the actual drafting process usually begins by the committees. Proposals may undergo several redrafts as they are reviewed by the full Council at subsequent meetings. By the Spring meeting of the Council in even-numbered years (usually in April), language is close to being final, so that final approval by the Council at its annual meeting held in conjunction with the State Bar’s Annual Meeting is mostly pro forma. Note that items may be added to or removed from the legislative package at any time during this process as issues arise.

3.4. REPTL’s Package is Submitted to the Bar. In order to obtain permission to “sponsor” legislation, the entire REPTL package is submitted to the other substantive law sections of the State Bar for review and comment in early July. This procedure is designed to assure that legislation with the State Bar’s “seal of approval” will be relatively uncontroversial and will further the State Bar’s goal of promoting the interests of justice.

3.5. Legislative Policy Committee Review. Following a comment period (and sometimes revisions in response to comments received), REPTL representatives appear before the State Bar’s Legislative Policy Committee in August to explain and seek approval for REPTL’s legislative package.

3.6. State Bar Board of Directors Approval. Assuming REPTL’s package receives preliminary approval from the State Bar’s Legislative Policy Committee, it is submitted to the full Board of Directors of the State Bar for approval in September. At times, REPTL may not receive approval of portions of its package. In these cases, REPTL usually works to satisfy any concerns raised, and then seeks approval from the full Board of Directors through an appeal process.

3.7. REPTL is Ready to Go. After REPTL receives approval from the State Bar’s Board of Directors to carry its package, it then meets with appropriate Representatives and Senators to obtain sponsors, who submit the legislation to the Legislative Council for review, revision, and drafting in bill form. REPTL’s legislation is usually filed (in several different bills) in the early days of the sessions that begin in January of odd-numbered years.

3.8. This Year’s REPTL Package. The REPTL package this year included a Decedents’ Estates bill (H.B. 3350), a Guardianship bill (H.B. 3080), a Trust Code bill (H.B. 2368), a Statutory Probate Court Venue Clarification bill (H.B. 2367), and two bills designed to fit into the new Estates Code that will go into effect in 2014, one dealing with Independent Administration changes (H.B. 3085) and one dealing with Jurisdiction and Venue issues (H.B. 3086). REPTL also received permission to support the Nonsubstantive Recodification

\(^2\) Note that the “RE” or real estate side of REPTL usually does not have a legislative package, but is very active in monitoring legislation filed in its areas of interest.
bill (H.B. 2502) that enacts a new Estates Code to replace the current Probate Code in 2014, although strictly speaking, that wasn’t a "REPTL" bill. Ultimately, only the Guardianship bill, the Trust Code Bill, and the Nonsubstantive Recodification Bill passed.

3.9. The Academy Steps In. While there are procedures for expedited consideration of additional proposals that do not meet the State Bar’s deadlines described above, REPTL rarely, if ever, uses those procedures. For items that may come up relatively late in the game, or for items that may be considered inappropriate for the REPTL package, the Academy may step in and work for approval of legislation.

3.10. During the Session. During the legislative session, the work of REPTL and the Academy is not merely limited to working for passage of their respective bills. An equally important part of their roles is monitoring bills introduced by others and working with their sponsors to improve those bills, or, where appropriate, to oppose them.

3.11. Where You Can Find Information About Filed Bills. You can find information about any of the bills mentioned in this paper (whether or not they passed), including text, lists of witnesses and analyses (if available), and actions on the bill, at the Texas Legislature Online website: www.legis.state.tx.us. You can even perform your own searches for legislation based on your selected search criteria.

3.12. Summary of the Legislative Process. Watching the process is like being on a roller coaster; one minute a bill is sailing along, and the next it is in dire trouble. The real work is done in committees, and the same legislation must ultimately pass both houses. Thus, even if an identical bill is passed by the Senate as a Senate bill and by the House as a House bill, it cannot be sent to the Governor until either the House has passed the Senate bill or vice-versa. At any point in the process, members can and often do put on amendments which require additional steps and additional shuttling. It is always a race against time, and it is much easier to kill legislation than to pass it.

5.1. A New Beginning. January 1, 2014. Less than five years from now. That’s a date you’ll need to remember if you’re still practicing in our area. It is the proposed effective date of our new Estates Code, which will replace our current Probate Code. Here’s the story ….

5.2. Our Current Probate Code is Not a “Code”. Texas has had a number of statutory compilations during its history. In 1925, the 39th Legislature adopted its fourth bulk revision of Texas laws, the Revised Statutes of Texas, 1925.3 In 1936, The Vernon Law Book Company published an unannotated compilation of the 1925 Revised Civil and Criminal Statutes, updated with changes through January 1, 1936. Between 1936 and 1948, this was updated with non-cumulative biennial supplements. In 1948, a new compilation was published, and biennial updates continued. The “Texas Probate Code” was first enacted in 1955, effective January 1, 1956. However, Texas had not yet adopted any organized system of statutory codification at the time, so the Texas Probate Code was incorporated into Vernon’s Revised Civil Statutes, known as the “Black Statutes” for those of us old enough to have practiced with the hard copies of these volumes.

5.3. The “Codification” Process Began in 1963, After Our Probate Code Was Enacted. In the 38 years since the 1925 general revision of Texas laws, the statutes had become confusing and difficult to use. In 1963, the 58th Legislature passed S.B. 367, which ordered the creation of a permanent, ongoing statutory revision program. The Texas Legislative Council was charged with making a complete, non-substantive revision of Texas statutes.

Legislation enacting new code sections is generally based on a Revisor’s Report which contains the proposed language of the new code, the language of the old statutes, and brief notes. When the program is complete, all general and permanent statutes will be included in one of 27 codes. The Probate Code is not a “code” for purposes of the Code Construction Act and the Legislative Council codification initiative since (1) it was enacted before the codification effort began, and (2) it does not comply with the organizational and stylistic principles of modern Texas codes. (The Criminal Procedure Code is the only other remaining “uncodified” code. The Probate Code just happened to draw the short straw in 2006.)

5.4. The Legislative Council’s Procedure. The Texas Legislative Council’s nonsubstantive revision process involves reclassifying and rearranging the statutes in a more logical order, employing a numbering system and format that will accommodate future expansion of the law, eliminating repealed, invalid, duplicative, and other ineffective provisions, and improving the draftsmanship of the law if practicable—all toward promoting the stated purpose of making the statutes “more accessible, understandable, and usable” without altering the sense, meaning, or effect of the law. The Legislative Council staff encourages examination and review of all proposed code chapters by any interested person. The staff attempts to include in the proposed code all source law assigned to the code and to ensure that no substantive change has been made in the law. A complete and adequate outside review is necessary, however.

5.5. The “Estates and Guardianship Code.” Legislative Council chose the “Estates and Guardianship Code” as the new name for the recodified Probate Code. It was filed as H.B. 2502 by Rep. Hartnett and S.B. 2071 by Senator Duncan. However, Rep. Hartnett felt that the new name was a mouthful, so the name of the new Code was shortened to just the “Estates Code” when it was passed on the floor of the House.

5.6. REPTL’s Probate Codification Committee. When REPTL learned in the summer of 2006 that the Legislative Council was going to codify

the Probate Code, it began to work actively with the Legislative Council staff on the codification project. It established a Probate Code Codification Committee, which is co-chaired by Professor Thomas M. Featherston, Jr., the Mills Cox Professor of Law at Baylor Law School, and by Barbara McComas Anderson, a Dallas attorney, both of whom are former REPTL chairs. Through a series of meetings with Legislative Council staff, it was decided that:

1. REPTL and the Legislative Council would cooperate in determining how the new code would be organized.

2. The Legislative Council would take the lead in drafting the new code, although REPTL’s committee would work on some of the thorniest provisions, like jurisdiction, venue, and independent administration, where it was considered difficult or impossible to codify the current statutes without some tweaking.

3. The chapters of the code governing decedents’ estates would be drafted first, with a goal of submitting these chapters to the Legislature for adoption in 2009.

4. The remaining chapters of the code, including those provisions governing guardianships and powers of attorney, would be drafted after the 2009 session, with a goal of submitting these chapters to the Legislature for adoption in 2011.

5. The new code would become effective after the 2011 session. (But see Section 5.12.)

6. REPTL would assist the Legislative Council during the entire legislative process, including providing expert review of chapters as they are drafted and expert testimony about legislation before the Legislature.

5.7. The “Substantive” Recodification. Lisa Jamieson of Fort Worth chairs the subcommittee dealing with jurisdiction and venue, while Stephanie Donaho of Houston chairs the independent administration subcommittee.

5.8. The Substantive Recodification Bills DID NOT Pass (Or at Least Not the Independent Administration Bill. Neither of the substantive recodification bills described below passed both houses of the legislature. They fell victim to the last-minute logjam of bills in the Senate that had a multitude of causes, an explanation of which would substantially lengthen this paper. So why are they still being described in some detail? For two reasons. First, due to the hard work of Rep. Will Hartnett and the cooperation of Senator John Carona, the language of the jurisdiction bill was engrafted at the last minute onto the conference committee report for S.B. 408, a bill otherwise dealing with judicial administration, and passed on the last day of the session. Second, you’ll see the independent administration bill again as part of REPTL’s 2011 legislative package.

(The first of many references to a logjam.)

5.9. Jurisdiction and Venue. The jurisdiction and venue provisions were originally revised with the goal of making them more streamlined and easier to understand. However, because of the different courts in Texas that have original probate jurisdiction based on which county you find yourself in, there is a limit to how much streamlining can be achieved. A version of these revisions was filed as H.B. 3086 by Rep. Hartnett. However, due to opposition from Texans for Lawsuit Reform and the Texas Civil Justice League to some of the proposed venue changes, all of the venue provisions were stripped from the bill prior to its approval in the House. And as noted, the stripped down language was eventually added to S.B. 408 before it was passed. The venue provisions may be restored in some form in a 2011 proposal if an acceptable compromise can be reached with the elements that opposed them this year.

5.9.1. “Probate Proceedings.” The term “probate proceedings” is used to define the matters that must be brought in a court exercising original probate jurisdiction. In addition to the jurisdiction of a court to exercise original probate jurisdiction over “probate proceedings,” the provisions set out each court’s power to hear matters “related to a probate proceeding.” If a matter is merely “related to a probate proceeding,” then it need not be brought in the court exercising original probate jurisdiction unless that court is a statutory probate court.

All matters “related to a probate proceeding” must be brought in a statutory probate court unless the statutory probate court has concurrent jurisdiction with the district court on a matter related to a probate proceeding.

5.9.2. Types of Courts The types of courts exercising original probate jurisdiction will not change. However, the probate jurisdiction of county courts at law is expanded to include the interpretation and administration of testamentary trusts if the will creating the trust was admitted to probate in that court.

5.9.3. Contested Matters The provisions outlining the transfer of contested matters from a court with original probate jurisdiction are being modified slightly with the hope of alleviating some of the jurisdictional traps that have been associated with these transfer statutes.

- Transfer to District Court. If a contested matter is transferred from a county court to a district court, any matter related to the probate proceeding may also be brought in the district court proceeding. The district court, on its own motion or the motion of any party, may determine that the new matter is not contested and transfer the new matter back to the county court that had original jurisdiction of the probate proceeding. In addition, jurisdiction for any other contested matters filed after the transfer of a contested matter to district court will be in the same district court.

- Assignment of Statutory Probate Judge. If a contested matter is assigned to a statutory probate judge, then any other contested matters filed after the assignment must be assigned to a statutory probate judge.

- Transfer to County Court at Law. In those counties where there is a county court at law exercising original probate jurisdiction, a contested matter must be transferred to that county court at law on motion of any party. In addition, the judge of the county court, on his or her own motion or on the motion of any party, may transfer the entire proceeding to the county court at law. If only the contested portion of the proceeding is transferred to the county court at law, it may be returned to the county court for further proceedings once resolved.

5.9.4. Statutory Probate Courts A new provision grants statutory probate courts concurrent jurisdiction with district courts over certain matters involving trusts and powers of attorney, and certain matters involving a personal representative in personal injury lawsuits.

5.9.5. Transfer Powers In the introduced version of H.B. 3086, the Section 5B transfer power of statutory probate courts was preserved, with the limitation that venue for actions by or against a personal representative for personal injury, death or property damage related to the personal injury or death must be determined under Section 15.007 of the Civil Practice and Remedies Code. This change was designed to help clarify that the statutory probate court still had its transfer powers as previously found in Section 5B except in the limited situations where the Probate Code provides that venue is governed by the Civil Practice and Remedies Code. However, as noted above, these provisions drew opposition and therefore were stripped from the bill prior to its passage in the House. Nor were they added to the version of S.B. 408 that eventually passed.

5.9.6. Venue The general venue provisions were not materially changed, but they were consolidated into a single section to make them easier to locate. This includes venue for heirship proceedings which was previously located in the heirship provisions. However, these noncontroversial venue provisions were stripped from the bill as well to deflect opposition. Therefore, the current venue provisions will need to be incorporated into the new Estates Code in a “nonsubstantive” recodification drafted for the 2011 session.

5.10. Independent Administration. The independent administration revisions are contained in H.B. 3085 filed by Rep. Hartnett. Since there was no testimony in opposition to these provisions in either house, expect them to be included in much the same form in REPTL’s 2011 legislative package. The changes attempt to bring some further substantive clarification to three areas of independent administration:

1. Specifying the authority of an independent executor or administrator to sell assets in the absence of an express grant in the will.

2. Detailing the procedures for presenting and dealing with creditors’ claims; and

3. Providing a simpler procedure for filing a notice that an independent administration has “closed” without the need for a full accounting of all receipts and disbursements.

A fourth nonsubstantive benefit is the reorganization of the independent administration provisions in a logical manner. The current provisions are a conglomeration of sections added at various times with little effort to group similar provisions together. The revisions organize the entire body of law into a logical order, starting with creating of the independent administration, then general administrative provisions, then procedures for handling claims, exemptions, and allowances, then accountings, successors, and beneficiary remedies, and finally, closing and distributions.

5.10.1. Independent Administration by Agreement Provisions are added allowing parents of minor children and trustees to consent to independent administration by agreement where no conflict exists.

5.10.2. Power of Sale by Consent The revisions confirm that an independent representative may sell without a court order under the same circumstances that a dependent representative could sell with a court order. In administrations without a will, or where a will fails to expressly grant a power of sale, an independent administrator may be granted a power of sale over real property in the order of appointment if the beneficiaries who would receive the real property consent to the power (avoiding a later need to obtain their consent). Perhaps more importantly from a practical standpoint, the revisions include a new concept (borrowed from the Trust Code) providing statutory protection for third parties who rely on the apparent authority of an independent representative where a power of sale is granted in the will or the representative provides an affidavit that the sale is necessary under the circumstances described in current Probate Code Section 341(1).

5.10.3. Secured Claims Over twenty years ago, the Texas Supreme Court ruled that Probate Code Section 306 applies to independent administrations. See Geary v. Texas Commerce Bank, 967 S.W.2d 836 (Tex. 1998). However, the Probate Code has never been amended to recognize this. Therefore, the revisions pay special attention to providing guidance regarding the handling of secured claims. Secured creditors electing matured, secured status must file a notice in the official records of the county in which the real property securing the indebtedness is located. Those creditors must obtain court approval or the administrator’s consent to exercise any foreclosure rights. Secured creditors electing preferred debt and lien status may not exercise any nonjudicial foreclosure rights during the first six months of the administration.

5.10.4. Method of Presenting Claims and Notices Creditors must present their claims or respond to notices (i) in a written instrument that is hand-delivered or sent by certified mail, in either case with proof of receipt, to the administrator or the administrator’s attorney; (ii) in a pleading filed in a lawsuit with respect to the claim; or (iii) in a written instrument or pleading filed in the court in which the administration is pending.

5.10.5. Statute of Limitations The running of the statute of limitations is tolled only by (i) a written approval of a claim signed by the administrator, (ii) a pleading filed in a suit pending at the time of the decedent’s death, or (iii) a suit brought by the creditor against the administrator. The mere presentment of a claim or notice does not toll the running of the statute of limitations.

5.10.6. Other Claims Procedures Other claims procedures generally do not apply. Specifically, a claim is not barred merely because a creditor fails to file suit within ninety days following the rejection of a claim.

5.10.7. Notice of Closing Estate In addition to existing procedures for closing independent administrations, an administrator may elect to close an independent administration by filing an affidavit stating that all known debts have been paid, or have been paid to the extent the assets of the estate will permit; that all remaining assets have been distributed; and the names and addresses of the distributees. Once the administration is closed, third parties may deal directly with the distributees.

5.10.8. Closing Not Required

A new provision explicitly recognizes that independent administrations are not required to be closed.

5.10.9. Determination of Heirships

Prior to emerging from the House, the bill was amended to require a judicial determination of heirship in the event of an independent administration by agreement in an intestate situation. (This is already the case by local rule in most statutory probate courts.)

5.11. Other Changes Awaiting the 2011 Session.

This session’s proposals will not include revisions to the entire Probate Code. Revisions to the guardianship provisions and other miscellaneous portions of the Probate Code will have to wait for the 2011 legislative session.

5.12. Effective Date of the New Estates Code.

While only a portion of the Probate Code will be recodified in the 2009 session, for simplicity’s sake, REPTL pushed for a single effective date for the entire recodification effort. Therefore, the effective date would have to await the end of the 2011 session. However, Legislative Council felt it important that all recodified portions of the Probate Code be enacted with a cushion of at least one session following enactment but prior to effectiveness. This would provide enough time to review the enactments and correct any errors or omissions in a subsequent legislative session prior to anything becoming effective. In order to provide that one-session cushion for the portions to be enacted in the 2011 session, the effective date of the newly recodified Estates Code (with whatever new name is chosen for it) would have to be delayed until after the 2013 session. And since it appears to make more sense to have any new rules apply on a calendar year basis, the new Estates Code will have an effective date of January 1, 2014. However, REPTL’s contributions (the jurisdiction provisions, along with the independent administration changes) will be enacted as changes to the current Probate Code with an effective date of September 1, 2009.

In the 1999 case of Fleming Foods of Texas, Inc. v. Rylander, 6 S.W.3d 278 (Tex. 1999), the Supreme Court apparently gave effect to a substantive change due to language used in a bill that was intended to be a nonsubstantive codification. Two bills have been introduced to reverse this result: H.B. 4126 filed by Rep. Hartnett, and S.B. 2038 filed by Senator Duncan. While the two bills take slightly different routes to get there, they arrive at a similar result – a nonsubstantive codification should be interpreted the same as the prior law it codifies. S.B. 2038 passed both houses, but prior to the end of the legislative session, became one of the first bills vetoed by Gov. Perry. According to a report in the Austin American-Statesman, “Perry told lawmakers that if they intend a law to accomplish a specific purpose, they should write it clearly.”

6.1. The REPTL Decedents’ Estates Bill. The REPTL 2009 decedent’s estates legislative package was relatively modest, given the resources being devoted to the recodification project. It was filed by Rep. Hartnett as H. B. 3350. It, too, fell victim to the last-minute logjam of bills in the Senate and failed to pass. However, there were only two relatively minor proposals affecting decedents’ estates.

6.1.1. Repeal of Testamentary Provision for Management of Separate Property (Section 70).

Section 70 allows a testator to include a provision in his or her will giving the surviving spouse the power to keep testator’s separate property together until each of the beneficiaries becomes an adult, using the same provisions applicable to the management of community property. Since this provision is rarely (if ever) used, REPTL proposed repealing it. This repeal was also contained in H.B. 1968 filed by Rep. Hartnett (which also fell victim to the same last-minute logjam).

Ever find yourself trying to explain to your clients why it’s necessary for them and the witnesses to sign the will twice? Ever consider the procedure archaic? Well REPTL has something just for you – a handy, dandy revision to Section 59 that allows an optional method of simultaneously executing, attesting, and making a will self-proved, so that everyone signs just once. For those of you who think this is just too radical a departure from current law, rest assured that the Uniform Probate Code has contained an optional one-step method for years. Further, if that still doesn’t make you feel better, the tried-and-true two-step method will remain available. While this provision did not pass, a taste of it will be available starting September 1st when a similar provision relating to self-proving affidavits in guardianship designations goes into effect, thanks to H.B. 3080, REPTL’s guardianship bill (discussed below).

6.2. No Contest Provisions in Wills. Rep. Hartnett filed H.B. 1969 which makes no contest provisions unenforceable if probable cause exists for commencing the contest and the contest was brought and maintained in good faith.

6.3. Reference to Prior Divorce in Probate Application. Rep. Paxton filed H.B. 1460 and H.B. 1461, that revise the required contents of applications to probate wills to state whether a marriage of the decedent was ever dissolved after the execution of the will.

7.1.1. More Frequent Periodic Compensation of Guardians and Trustees. Sections 665 and 868 would be revised to allow the court to authorize guardians and trustees of management trusts to receive estimated commissions on a quarterly basis, rather than having to await the approval of the annual account. The court will still retain the power to review and approve the total commission upon review of the account, including the power to require the guardian or trustee to refund commissions should it turn out that the estimated quarterly payments exceeded the commissions finally allowed.

7.1.2. Additional Compensation for Guardians of the Person. In situations where most of the ward’s assets are managed in a trust, it may be unreasonable to limit the compensation of the guardian of the person to five percent of the income received and five percent of the expenses paid by the guardian of the estate. A further revision to Section 665 would allow the court to exceed this limit in appropriate circumstances.

7.1.3. Compensation for Attorneys Serving as Guardians. New Section 665D places restrictions on the attorney’s fees charged by attorneys who are also serving as guardians. Their invoices must include a detailed description of the services performed, and they are only entitled for attorney’s fees for legal services. They may not receive attorney’s fees for services as guardian that are not legal services. (A similar proposal was introduced, but did not pass, in the 2007 session. Although it was not a REPTL proposal, its substance has been incorporated into the REPTL package for 2009.)

7.1.4. Compensation of Attorneys Seeking to Establish Management Trusts. Section 665B is clarified to allow awarding attorney’s fees to attorneys representing a person seeking to create a management trust under Section 867.

7.1.5. “One-Step” Procedure for Guardianship Declaration Execution. The same optional one-step method for will execution described above will also be made available to declarations of guardians for minor children (Section 677A) and for the declarant (Section 679).

7.1.6. Smaller Management Trusts. A committee substitute for H.B. 3080 allows appointment of noncorporate trustees of management trusts up to $150,000, and management trusts in excess of that amount if the applicant has been unable to find a financial institution in the geographic area willing to serve. In addition, the committee substitute provides a mechanism for transferring the assets of a management trust to a pooled income trust, such as the Master Pooled Trust operated by The Arc of Texas.

7.2. Examination Requirements. Rep. Naïshtat filed H.B. 889 and Senator Uresti filed its companion, S.B. 2344, which is the version that eventually passed both houses. This bill revises the required information in a physician’s affidavit, and adds certain additional examination requirements when a guardianship is sought for persons with mental retardation. (This appears similar to H.B. 1708 filed in 2007.) The detailed changes to Section 687 and the physician’s affidavit can be found in the portion of this paper outlining the specific changes to the guardianship portion of the Probate Code.

7.3. Payment of Attorney’s Fees of Guardianship Applicant. Rep. Naïshtat filed H.B. 587 that allows a probate court to authorize the payment of reasonable and necessary attorney’s fees incurred by the applicant for creation of a guardianship. Payment from the county treasury may be authorized if the court satisfies itself that the attorney is not being paid from some other source.

7.4. Medical Assistance Program Reimbursement for Guardianship Expenses. Senator Uresti filed S.B. 2435 which permits a court that appoints a guardian for a recipient of medical assistance who has “applied income” to order the following expenses to be paid under the medical assistance program (within a stated amount for each): compensation of the guardian, costs of establishing or terminating the guardianship, and other administration costs.

7.5. Appointment of DADS as Guardian. Senator Harris filed S.B. 271 which would allow a court to appoint the Department of Aging and Disability Services as guardian in certain limited circumstances where there is no one else available to serve. Because appointment of DADS under this provision is allowed without DADS making the application for guardianship, total statewide appointments under this provision are limited to 55 per year, distributed roughly equally among DADS’ regions in the state.

7.7. Notification of Exemption of Trusts from Liability for Support. Senator Van de Putte filed S.B. 584, requiring notification to a patient of a mental health or resident care facility of the exemption of certain trusts from the liability to pay for support. (This appears similar to S.B. 973 filed in 2007.)

8. Changes Affecting Trusts.

8.1. The REPTL Trust Code Bill. The REPTL Trust Code package is also much more modest than the past three sessions. It was filed by Rep. Hartnett as H.B. 2368.

8.1.1. Trustee’s Power to Make Non-HEMS Distributions to Himself. Trusts may give trustees the power to make distributions to the beneficiaries in the trustees’ sole discretion, without any standard, or in accordance with a standard that is not “ascertainable.” This rarely causes problems unless the trustee, herself, is also a beneficiary. This may result in unintended estate tax and creditor problems for the trustee-beneficiary. A well-drafted trust would contain a savings provision cutting back on the trustee’s power to make distributions to herself, limited those distributions to health, education, support, and maintenance. New Section 113.029 would add a statutory savings provision to correct poorly-drafted trusts that would protect trustee-beneficiaries from attorneys who accidentally give them an unascertainable power to distribute to themselves for, e.g., comfort, benefit, welfare, or well-being. The proposal does not completely suspend a distribution power; it carves it back to permissible limits. The provision would require language expressly referring to the new statute to “opt out” of its restrictions, but would be applicable only to trusts that became irrevocable following its enactment.

8.1.2. Attorneys ad Litem Under the Trust Code. Section 115.014 is amended to add express statutory authorization for the appointment of attorneys ad litem in Trust Code proceedings, and to provide for compensation of them and guardians ad litem.

8.1.3. Distributions from IRAs and Other Retirement Plans to Marital Trusts. Section 116.172 is amended to incorporate the current proposed response of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel to objections raised by the Internal Revenue Service (in Rev. Rul. 2006-26) that our current default statute may not contain an effective marital deduction savings clause for IRA’s and qualified retirement plans payable to a trust designed to qualify for a QTIP marital deduction election.

8.1.4. Trustee Named as Beneficiary in Insurance Policy. Section 1104.021 of the Insurance Code contains a reference to a trust that “designates a beneficiary” of a life insurance policy. This proposal changes the reference to a trust that “is designated as a beneficiary” of a life insurance policy.

8.1.5. Persons Who May Disclaim Interests in Trusts. This minor change to Trust Code Section 112.010 would add a reference to independent administrators, in addition to independent executors, as persons who may disclaim an interest in a trust. (While the latter is defined to include the former in the Probate Code, there is no such definition in the Trust Code.)

8.1.6. Effect of Divorce on Revocable Trusts. REPTL’s Decedents’ Estates Bill, H.B. 3350, also amended Probate Code Sections 471, 472, and 473 to conform these provisions relating to revocable trusts to the similar changes relating to wills in Section 69 of the Probate Code made in the last legislative session. They revoke provisions in favor of the former spouse’s relatives following dissolution of a marriage, and add references to a declaration that a marriage is void (in addition to divorce and annulment). However, as noted above, H.B. 3350 did not pass, so these changes will have to await 2011.

8.1.7. Protecting Directed Trustees. TBA and others have expressed concerns that our current Section 114.003 does not contain a bright-line test for when a trustee may follow (without liability) the directions of a third party who is given a power to direct the trustee’s actions in the trust agreement. At TBA’s request, REPTL included proposed changes to Section 114.003 designed to clarify when trustees have to listen to, and when they have a duty to ignore, a person holding a power to direct the trustee’s actions. However, due to continued concerns regarding the proposed language, this provision was removed from the Trust Code bill prior to its approval in the House. Back to the drawing board for the 2011 session …

8.2. Continuation of Title Insurance Coverage. Rep. Paxton also filed H.B. 3768 which attempted to continue title insurance coverage for property transferred into an inter vivos trust for the settlor’s benefit. The conference committee report adopted by both houses directs the commission of the Department of Insurance (if we still have one) to adopt provisions in an owner’s policy of title insurance issued to an individual that continue coverage for (i) a person who inherits from the named insured, (ii) a spouse who receives title in a divorce from the named insured, (iii) the trustee of a trust established by the named insured after the date of the policy, or (iv the beneficiaries of that trust after the named insured’s death. This change applies to policies issued on or after January 1, 2010.

8.3. No Contest Provisions in Trusts. Rep. Hartnett filed H.B. 1969 which makes no contest provisions unenforceable if probable cause exists for commencing the contest and the contest was brought and maintained in good faith.

8.4. Actions by Cotrustees. Rep. Geren filed H.B. 3635 which outlines how the remaining co-trustees act in the event of a “temporary suspension” of a trustee. Significant revisions from the introduced version were negotiated by Academy representatives before final passage.

9. Changes to Jurisdiction and Venue.

9.1. Genesis of the REPTL Venue Clarification Bill. (The REPTL Venue Clarification Bill, H.B. 2367, did not pass due to opposition from Texans for Lawsuit Reform and the Texas Civil Justice League to some of its provisions. However, since some form of this bill may be reintroduced in 2011, a description of the need for the bill and its proposed solution is appropriate.) Since 1983, statutory probate courts have had the power to transfer cases filed elsewhere that are appertaining or incident to an estate pending in that court for trial and disposition. One of the reasons for authorizing the courts to make such a transfer is to permit these courts to resolve issues upon which the prompt and efficient administration of an estate depends. However, this transfer authority has generated some controversy and accusations of forum shopping due to the occasional transfer of personal injury or wrongful death cases by a statutory probate court to itself where the appropriateness of the new venue was considered questionable.

9.1.1. Civil Practice and Remedies Code Section 15.007. In 1995, the legislature added Section 15.007 to the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code, effective for cases filed on or after August 28, 1995. This venue statute, entitled Conflict With Certain Provisions, provides:

Notwithstanding Sections 15.004, 15.005, and 15.031, to the extent that venue under this chapter for a suit by or against an executor, administrator, or guardian as such, for personal injury, death, or property damage conflicts with venue provisions under the Texas Probate Code, this chapter controls.

(emphasis supplied)

This was part of then-Governor Bush’s first tort reform push. The intent seems clear: follow the normal venue rules in personal injury, death, or property damage cases, rather than the Probate Code’s “by or against a personal representative” rule. However, this statute was not interpreted in this manner by statutory probate courts, due to the statute’s reference to “venue” provisions under the Probate Code. For the most part, statutory probate judges insisted that Sections 5A, 5B, 607, and 608 were jurisdictional statutes, not venue statutes. Therefore, they argued, Civil Practice and Remedies Code Section 15.007 didn’t control those jurisdictional statutes.

9.1.2. Gonzalez v. Reliant Energy, Inc. On March 11, 2005, in the midst of the 2005 session, the Texas Supreme Court decided the Gonzalez v. Reliant Energy, Inc., case (159 S.W.3d 615 (2005)). This case involved a wrongful death action brought in the Hidalgo County statutory probate court, where the estate administration was pending, rather than in Harris or Fort Bend Counties, where venue would otherwise lie. The Texas Supreme Court acknowledged that the estate administration was properly brought in the Hidalgo County statutory probate court, and that the same court had jurisdiction over the wrongful death and survival action. However, the provision granting the statutory probate court jurisdiction did not confer venue. The Supreme Court disagreed, holding that Section 15.007 of the Civil Practice and Remedies Code prohibits such a transfer when there is a timely objection.

9.1.3. 2007 Legislative Proposal. The Supreme Court’s decision in Gonzalez v. Reliant Energy led to concerns among some practitioners that appropriate property damage claims, such as theft by an executor or guardian, would not be transferable under a strict reading of Section 15.007, since its reference to property damage claims was not expressly limited to those arising out of wrongful death and personal injury claims. H.B. 660 was introduced in the 2007 session to address this concern and to clarify that for matters not specifically covered by the trump statute, a statutory probate court may transfer causes of action appertaining or incident to an estate or guardianship without concern for venue. The proposal would have amended Section 15.007 of the Civil Practice and Remedies Code by limiting the actions concerning property damage to which that section applied to property damage related to a personal injury or death suit. While H.B. 660 passed in the House, its companion bill, S.B. 392, failed to emerge from the Senate Jurisprudence Committee.

9.1.4. The 2009 REPTL Venue Clarification Bill. The 2009 REPTL proposal is substantively similar to the 2007 proposal. It was filed by Rep. Hartnett as H.B. 2367. In addition to the amendment to Section 15.007, it amends Sections 5B and 608 to specifically except out cases to which Section 15.007 applies. It also adds new Sections 7 and 610A to the Probate Code that would have the effect of empowering a statutory probate court to transfer any case that was not covered by Section 15.007.
However, as noted above, this proposal did not pass.

9.1.5. Senate Jurisprudence Committee Interim Report. In December, the Senate Jurisprudence Committee issued an interim report. This issue was discussed. The Committee’s recommendation is that in order to exercise a transfer power, the statutory probate court must have at least permissive venue of the transferred cause of action.

9.1.6. Proper Venue Required. Perhaps in response to the interim report, Senator Hinojosa filed S.B. 1267, which requires a statutory probate court to have mandatory or property venue of an action to exercise its transfer power under Sections 5B or 608. This proposal did not pass either.

10. Changes Affecting Charitable Trusts or Organizations.

10.1. Restriction on Relocation of Charitable Trusts. Senator Shapleigh filed S.B. 666 which would add new Trust Code Section 113.029, restricting the ability of a trustee of a charitable trust to relocate the administration of the trust or the trust assets without the settlor’s consent. A compromise was reached by an ad hoc committee including REPTL members, the Attorney General’s office, Statutory Probate Judges, and Sen. Shapleigh’s office. (Yes, the unfortunate number of the bill did not go unnoticed by those involved.)

10.2. AG Participation in Breach of Fiduciary Duty Claims Involving Charitable Trusts. Senator Harris filed S.B. 917 and S.B. 918 (Rep. Leibowitz filed identical H.B. 2417 and H.B. 2416, but the Senate versions passed). The former incorporates the definition of “charitable trust” from Property Code Section 123.001 into Probate Code Section 5(e)’s reference to a statutory probate court’s jurisdiction over an action involving a charitable trust. The latter clarifies that the venue is in Travis County for a proceeding brought by the Attorney General’s office against a charity for breach of fiduciary duty. (Current Property Code Section 123.005 only refers to actions against a fiduciary or managerial agent of a charitable trust, not the charity itself.)

10.3. Charitable Gift Annuities. Rep. Eiland filed H.B. 1293 which, among other things, amends and rearranges several of the definitions relating to charitable annuity contracts, including the definition of a charitable gift annuity, which is now defined by reference to its definition in §102.001 of the Insurance Code.

11. Court Administration

11.1. References to Court’s “Minutes.” Rep. Naishatat filed H.B. 585 that changes numerous references in the Probate Code to the court’s minutes to references to the judge’s probate or guardianship docket.

11.2. Replacement of Recused Statutory Probate Judges. In recent years, there has been some disagreement relating to the procedure to be followed when a motion to recuse a statutory probate judge is filed. It now appears clear that the presiding judge of the administrative region in which the statutory probate court is located appoints the judge to hear the recusal motion. However, despite that clarification, it remains unclear who appoints the replacement judge if the recusal motion is granted. H.B. 763, filed by Rep. Hartnett, makes clear that in the event the judge of a statutory probate court recuses himself or herself, or a motion to recuse that judge is granted, the presiding judge of the statutory probate courts (currently Judge Guy Herman of Travis County) fills the vacancy. On the other hand, S.B. 683, filed by Senator Wentworth, takes the exact opposite approach and provides that the presiding judge of the administrative region in which the statutory probate court is located appoints the judge to hear the recusal motion. The Senate bill is the version that ultimately passed, but it was amended in the House to provide that if the presiding judge of the administrative region does not fill the vacancy within 15 days, then the presiding judge of the statutory probate courts may fill the vacancy.

11.3. Associate Statutory Probate Judges. Rep. Gonzales filed H.B. 3315 which contained provisions relating to the term and compensation of associate judges of statutory probate courts. While this bill did not pass, the substance of the bill appears to have been incorporated into S.B. 683.

11.4. Eligibility of Former Statutory Probate Judges for Assignment. Rep. Hartnett filed H.B. 764 and Senator Wentworth filed S.B. 477 which are similar bills disqualifying former statutory probate judges from assignments if they were publicly reprimanded or censured by the State Commission on Judicial Conduct, or left office while an investigation by that office was pending. The House version of the bill passed.

11.5. Supplemental Longevity Pay for Statutory Probate Judges. Rep. Hartnett filed H.B. 765 which requires counties to pay statutory probate judges the same supplemental longevity pay that district judges are entitled to receive.

12.1. Convenience Accounts. Rep. Deshotel filed H.B. 3075, a proposal by the Independent Bankers Association of Texas (“IBAT”) that provides for the addition of “convenience signers” to a number of account types, not just the typical joint account without survivorship rights that is currently considered a “convenience account.”

13.1. Digital or Electronic Signatures in Advance Directives; Notarization in Lieu of Witnesses. Rep. Hartnett filed H.B. 2585 which provides for the use of digital or electronic signatures in advance directives such as medical powers of attorney or out-of-hospital DNR orders. (Please don’t ask me how these work! It involves use of either a digital signature that uses an algorithm approved by the Texas Department of Health (soon to be known as the Department of State Health Services), or an electronic signature that is capable of verification.) By the time the bill passed, it also included provisions allowing a principal to sign a directive to physicians, an out-of-hospital DNR order, or a medical power of attorney before a notary public, in lieu of the two witnesses who are normally required.

13.2. Power of Attorney for Child. Rep. Herrero filed H.B. 1940 that would allow one parent to give a child’s grandparent, adult sibling, or adult aunt or uncle authority to make decisions regarding the child if the other parent is unwilling or unable to execute the power or make decisions regarding the care of the child. Its companion, S.B. 1598, filed by Senator Watson, is the version that passed.

14.1. Transfer of Homestead into Trust. Rep. Paxton filed H.B. 3767 which was intended to clarify that a homestead exemption for creditor purposes is not lost merely because it is transferred into an inter vivos trust. Academy representatives worked with Rep. Paxton’s office to improved the statutory language of the bill and provide a result that, while not necessarily perfect, provides some clarification to an area in need of same.

15. Changes Affecting Marital Property.

15.1. Replacement of Economic Contribution with Claims for Reimbursement. The Family Law Section proposed a substantial rewrite of the economic contribution provisions currently found at Family Code Section 3.401, et seq. Near the end of the 1999 legislative session, statutes were enacted designed to replace the case law regarding “equitable claims for reimbursement” with a statutory rule recognizing an “equitable interest.” The statutes created as many problems as they solved. A joint committee comprised of family law practitioners and probate lawyers worked on revisions adopted in 2001 and amended in 2003. However, after a number of years of working under this statutory framework, the Family Law Section has apparently given up and would rather return to a case-by-case equitable system.
S.B. 866, which essentially replaces the statutory formula for economic contribution with an equitable reimbursement remedy, removing some certainty but providing more flexibility to the court. Family Code Section 3.402 is changed from a definition of the amount of a statutory “economic contribution” amount to a list of elements of a claim for reimbursement. The following is the list of those elements, which we believe to be nonexclusive (new elements are in italics):

- the payment by one marital estate of the unsecured liabilities of another marital estate;

- inadequate compensation for the time, toil, talent, and effort of a spouse by a business entity under the control and direction of that spouse;

- the reduction of the principal amount of a debt secured by a lien on property owned before marriage, to the extent the debt existed at the time of marriage;

- the reduction of the principal amount of a debt secured by a lien on property received by a spouse by gift, devise, or descent during a manage, to the extent the debt existed at the time the property was received;

- the reduction of the principal amount of that part of a debt, including a home equity loan, incurred during a marriage secured by a lien on property and incurred for the acquisition of, or for capital improvements to, property;

- the reduction of the principal amount of that part of a debt incurred during a marriage secured by alien on property owned by a spouse for which the creditor agreed to look for repayment solely to the separate marital estate of the spouse on whose property the lien attached, and incurred for the acquisition of, or for capital improvements to, the property;

- the refinancing of a principal amount to the extent the refinancing reduces that principal amount; and

- capital improvements to property other than by incurring debt.

15.1.2. Exercise of Discretion. Courts are specifically directed to use equitable principles in determining reimbursement claims, and to consider offsets where appropriate, including offsets related to the benefits of use and enjoyment of property (consideration of such an offset is currently prohibited by Section 3.403(e)). The reimbursement claim for funds expended by one estate for improvements to another would be measured by the enhancement in value to the benefited estate.

15.1.3. Permissive Equitable Lien to Secure Claim for Reimbursement. Upon dissolution of the marriage, Family Code Section 3.406 would be amended to permit the imposition of a lien to secure a claim for reimbursement, rather than mandate a lien to secure a claim for economic contribution.

15.2. Protection of State Retirement System Benefits from Criminal Restitution of Spouse. Senator Duncan filed S.B. 2324, which provides that the benefits under any state retirement system account that are the participating spouse’s sole management community property are not subject to any claim for payment of a criminal restitution judgment entered against the non-participant spouse, except to the extent of the latter’s interest in those benefits under a qualified domestic relations order.

16. Other Notable Bills that Did Not Pass.

16.1. Pre-Death Probate? Here’s an interesting one. Senator Wentworth filed S.B. 1789 which would have allowed a person who has executed a will disinheriting an heir to seek a court order while alive that the person has testamentary capacity, is not suffering from undue influence, is not being tortiously interfered with, and there is no other cause of action having the effect of defeating the person’s will. The effect of the order is to bar the disinherited heir from contesting the will. Even more notable is that the trial court’s order is nonappealable.

16.2. Notice to Beneficiaries. Senator Wentworth, who introduced the legislation in the last session expanding the notice to beneficiaries from charitable organization to all beneficiaries, filed S.B. 319 which would have repealed the existing Section 128A notice requirements and enacted a new Section 128C identical to the old notice-to-charities provision. However, after a mid-February hearing at which at least one statutory probate judge expressed support for the current notice provisions, no action was taken to revise the current provisions.

16.3. Limitation on Use of Small Estate Affidavit for Homesteads. Currently, the decedent’s homestead is the only real property that may be transferred using a small estate affidavit. H.B. 3314, filed by Rep. Gonzales, would have further limited the use of the affidavit to situations where the distributee occupied the property as the distributee’s principal residence at the decedent’s death and is otherwise entitled to the property.

16.4. Timing of Section 149B Distribution Petitions. H.B. 1968, filed by Rep. Hartnett, would have, among other things, allowed the filing of a petition to distribute an estate subject to independent administration two years from the date letters testamentary or of administration are first issued. (The current statute is tied to the date an independent administration was created and the order appointing the independent executor was entered. This leads to confusion regarding when a petition could be filed in a case where a subsequent independent executor or administrator was appointed.)

16.5. Liabilities of Personal Representatives and Remedies for Breach of Fiduciary Duty. H.B. 1968 would have also outlined the damages resulting from a breach of fiduciary duty by a personal representative, including losses incurred by the estate, profit made by the personal representative, profit that would have accrued to the estate but for the breach, exemplary damages, and costs and fees (new Probate Code Section 236). This appears to be based primarily on Trust Code Section 114.001(c). H.B. 1968 also outlined a dozen remedies available for breach of fiduciary duty (new Probate Code Section 236A). The latter appears to be based primarily on new Trust Code Section 114.008, added in 2005.

16.6. Regulation of Heir Finders. Senator Wentworth filed S.B. 1243 which would have provided for the regulation of “heir finders” by the Texas Private Security Board.

16.7. Uniform Adult Guardianship and Protective Proceedings Jurisdiction Act. Or Not. Rep. Truitt filed H.B. 2260 which would have adopted the Uniform Adult Guardianship and Protective Proceedings Jurisdiction Act. This is really a jurisdictional provision dealing with interstate guardianship issues. A joint committee consisting of statutory probate court judges and REPTL representatives recommended deferring consideration of this act until 2011. As a compromise, a stripped-down version of the bill merely added criteria for a court to consider in deciding whether or not to exercise jurisdiction.

16.8. RAP Modification. Rep. Hartnett filed H.B. 990, a TBA proposal that would have modified the Rule Against Perpetuities found in Trust Code Section 112.036 to provide a flat 200-year perpetuities period, rather than the traditional “lives-in-being plus 21 years” test. TBA’s position is that “[t]he current statute, adapted from English feudal law, is antiquated, hard to interpret by fiduciaries and estate planners and contrary to modern estate planning desires of Texas citizens. Life expectancies have increased dramatically and Texas citizens who wish to provide for future generations are forced to take advantage of estate planning services in a growing number of other states (23) where this rule already has been updated. This modest clarification and enhancement will assist fiduciaries and estate planners with a greater definition of terms and will benefit Texas citizens by enabling them to understand in plain English their access to estate planning options.” The REPTL Council believes that there is no consensus either way among REPTL members, so REPTL took no position on this proposal.

16.9. Charitable Gift Annuities. Senator Ellis filed S.B. 961 which would have authorized the Department of Insurance to investigate whether a charitable organization issuing a charitable gift annuity meets the criteria required by Section 102.002 of the Insurance Code. Rep. Smithee filed H.B. 2650, the companion bill.
16.10. Cy Pres Funds. Senator Ogden filed S.B. 2350 which would have authorized the court to award “cy pres” funds in an action brought by the attorney general arising from conduct harmful to consumers or the public generally. Those funds were to be set aside in a separate account and distributed by the attorney general to nonprofit, charitable, or educational entities to fund programs providing assistance to consumers.

16.11. Proceedings in Absence of Statutory Probate Judge. Rep. Hartnett filed H.B. 1809 which would have allowed statutory probate judges to hear matters pending in another statutory probate court in the same county in the absence of the judge of the latter court (so long as another judge had not been assigned by the presiding judge of the statutory probate courts).

16.12. Agent’s Execution of and Acknowledgement of Duties Under Power of Attorney. Rep. Guillen filed H.B. 2331 which, as introduced, would have required the designated agent to sign a financial power of attorney at the time of execution by the principal. The statutory form would have been changed to spell out a number of fiduciary duties assumed by the agent and delete the provision allowing designation of alternate agents. After negotiations with Academy representatives, the version approved in committee merely required the agent to execute a notice acknowledging the agent’s duties prior to engaging in a transaction involving more than $1,000 – leaving the statutory form alone.

17. Not So Fast, My Friends …

17.1. Trust Decanting. Many trusts already contain a decanting provision that allows the trustee to distribute the assets of a trust to another trust for the benefit of the beneficiaries of the trust. This is typically known as a “decanting” provision. A popular change that has been “sweeping the nation” is a statutory decanting provision (for trusts without a decanting provision). Many of the new provisions are designed to apply only in situations where the trustee already has broad discretion over distributions – akin to a “best interests” standard. TBA would like to see such a proposal to allow trustees to “clear out the administrative deadwood” of older trusts. REPTL has considered decanting proposals, and likely will have its own proposal in the 2011 session, but for now would like the opportunity to review what other states pass in the meantime.

17.2. Revocable Trust Provisions. REPTL still would like to add provisions regarding revocable trusts to the Trust Code. However, this project has been delayed because of energies diverted to the Probate Code Recodification project. The Uniform Trust Code contains model provisions dealing with some of these issues, but they require significant revision for use in Texas where we have many trusts with two settlors, i.e., the typical joint revocable trust created by spouses that holds community property, and possibly separate property of each spouse.

17.3. Uniform Power of Attorney Act. In 2006, the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws promulgated a new Uniform Power of Attorney Act. REPTL is in the process of studying this act with a view towards a 2011 proposal.

17.4. Anti-Jarboe Amendment? An early-2007 bankruptcy decision interpreting Texas law (the Jarboe case) held that the exemption of IRA’s by Property Code Section 42.0021 did not extend to inherited IRA’s (other than spousal IRA’s). Most of us were surprised at this interpretation, especially since the court paid lip service to the strong Texas public policy favoring debtors. Members of the Texas Academy drafted language during that session to reverse the result in that case. The proposal made no headway in the 2007 session.

REPTL considered this provision again for the 2009 legislative package, but declined to include it because of the perceived lack of consensus among its members. However, there may be some other group that proposes this change.

18. Conclusion.

This session was very contentious at the beginning and at the end, but fairly calm in the middle. It was a somewhat disappointing year for REPTL, because for the first time in a number of years, a significant portion of its legislative package failed to pass.
However, for the most part, that failure was unrelated to the substance of its legislation. The proposals, like many other good proposals, were caught up in the aforementioned logjam. With preparation, REPTL hopes to pass this legislation (and any other good ideas its members come up with in the next year) in 2011.

Sec. 4D. JURISDICTION OF CONTESTED PROBATE PROCEEDING IN COUNTY WITH NO STATUTORY PROBATE COURT OR STATUTORY COUNTY COURT.

(a) In a county in which there is no statutory probate court or county court at law exercising original probate jurisdiction, when a matter in a probate proceeding is contested, the judge of the county court may, on the judge's own motion, or shall, on the motion of any party to the proceeding, according to the motion:

(1) request the assignment of a statutory probate court judge to hear the contested matter, as provided by Section 25.0022, Government Code; or

(2) transfer the contested matter to the district court, which may then hear the contested matter as if originally filed in the district court.

(b) If a party to a probate proceeding files a motion for the assignment of a statutory probate court judge to hear a contested matter in the proceeding before the judge of the county court transfers the contested matter to a district court under this section, the county judge shall grant the motion for the assignment of a statutory probate court judge and may not transfer the matter to the district court unless the party withdraws the motion.

(c) A party to a probate proceeding may file a motion for the assignment of a statutory probate court judge under this section before a matter in the proceeding becomes contested, and the motion is given effect as a motion for assignment of a statutory probate court judge under Subsection (a) of this section if the matter later becomes contested.

(d) Notwithstanding any other law, a transfer of a contested matter in a probate proceeding to a district court under any authority other than the authority provided by this section:

(1) is disregarded for purposes of this section; and

(2) does not defeat the right of a party to the proceeding to have the matter assigned to a statutory probate court judge in accordance with this section.

(e) A statutory probate court judge assigned to a contested matter under this section has the jurisdiction and authority granted to a statutory probate court by this code. On resolution of a contested matter for which a statutory probate court judge is assigned under this section, including any appeal of the matter, the statutory probate court judge shall return the matter to the county court for further proceedings not inconsistent with the orders of the statutory probate court or court of appeals, as applicable.

(f) A district court to which a contested matter is transferred under this section has the jurisdiction and authority granted to a statutory probate court by this code. On resolution of a contested matter transferred to the district court under this section, including any appeal of the matter, the district court shall return the matter to the county court for further proceedings not inconsistent with the orders of the district court or court of appeals, as applicable.

(g) The county court shall continue to exercise jurisdiction over the management of the estate, other than a contested matter, until final disposition of the contested matter is made in accordance with this section. After a contested matter is transferred to a district court, any matter related to the probate proceeding may be brought in the district court. The district court in which a matter related to the probate proceeding is filed may, on its own motion or on the motion of any party, find that the matter is not a contested matter and transfer the matter to the county court with jurisdiction of the management of the estate.

(h) If a contested matter in a probate proceeding is transferred to a district court under this section, the district court has jurisdiction of any contested matter in the proceeding that is subsequently filed, and the county court shall transfer those contested matters to the district court. If a statutory probate court judge is assigned under this section to hear a contested matter in a probate proceeding, the statutory probate court judge shall be assigned to hear any contested matter in the proceeding that is subsequently filed.

(i) The clerk of a district court to which a contested matter in a probate proceeding is transferred under this section may perform in relation to the contested matter any function a county clerk may perform with respect to that type of matter.

Amended by Acts 2009, 81st Legislature, Ch. (SB 408), effective September 1, 2009. Section 12(i) of SB 408 provides: "(i) The changes in law made by this section apply only to an action filed or a proceeding commenced on or after the effective date of this Act. An action or proceeding commenced before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect on the date the action was filed or the proceeding was commenced, and the former law is continued in effect for that purpose.”

Sec. 4E. JURISDICTION OF CONTESTED PROBATE PROCEEDING IN COUNTY WITH NO STATUTORY PROBATE COURT.

(a) In a county in which there is no statutory probate court, but in which there is a county court at law exercising original probate jurisdiction, when a matter in a probate proceeding is contested, the judge of the county court may, on the judge's own motion, or shall, on the motion of any party to the proceeding, transfer the contested matter to the county court at law. In addition, the judge of the county court, on the judge's own motion or on the motion of a party to the proceeding, may transfer the entire proceeding to the county court at law.

(b) A county court at law to which a proceeding is transferred under this section may hear the proceeding as if originally filed in that court. If only a contested matter in the proceeding is transferred, on the resolution of the matter, the matter shall be returned to the county court for further proceedings not inconsistent with the orders of the county court at law.

Amended by Acts 2009, 81st Legislature, Ch. ____ (SB 408), effective September 1, 2009. Section 12(i) of SB 408 provides: “(i) The changes in law made by this section apply only to an action filed or a proceeding commenced on or after the effective date of this Act. An action or proceeding commenced before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect on the date the action was filed or the proceeding was commenced, and the former law is continued in effect for that purpose.”

Sec. 4F. EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OF PROBATE PROCEEDING IN COUNTY WITH STATUTORY PROBATE COURT.

(a) In a county in which there is a statutory probate court, the statutory probate court has exclusive jurisdiction of all probate proceedings, regardless of whether contested or uncontested. A cause of action related to the probate proceeding must be brought in a statutory probate court unless the jurisdiction of the statutory probate court is concurrent with the jurisdiction of a district court as provided by Section 4H of this code or with the jurisdiction of any other court.

(b) This section shall be construed in conjunction and in harmony with Section 145 of this code and all other sections of this code relating to independent executors, but may not be construed to expand the court's control over an independent executor.

Amended by Acts 2009, 81st Legislature, Ch. ____ (SB 408), effective September 1, 2009. If the amendments are irreconcilable, the latest in date of enactment prevails.

(c) In determining whether amendments to the same statute enacted at the same session of the legislature are irreconcilable, text that is reenacted because of the requirement of Article III, Section 36, of the Texas Constitution is not considered to be irreconcilable with additions or omissions in the same text made by another amendment. Unless clearly indicated to the contrary, an amendment that reenacts text in compliance with that constitutional requirement does not indicate legislative intent that the reenacted text prevail over changes in the same text made by another amendment, regardless of the relative dates of enactment.
(d) In this section, the date of enactment is the date on which the last legislative vote is taken on the bill enacting the statute.

(e) If the journals or other legislative records fail to disclose which of two or more bills in conflict is latest in date of enactment, the date of enactment of the respective bills is considered to be, in order of priority:

Sec. 665. COMPENSATION OF GUARDIANS AND TEMPORARY GUARDIANS.

(a) The court may authorize compensation for a guardian or a temporary guardian serving as a guardian of the person alone from available funds of the ward's estate or other funds available for that purpose. The court may set the compensation in an amount not exceeding five percent of the ward's gross income.

(a-1) In determining whether to authorize compensation for a guardian under this section, the court shall consider the ward's monthly income from all sources and whether the ward receives medical assistance under the state Medicaid program.

(b) The guardian or temporary guardian of an estate is entitled to reasonable compensation on application to the court at the time the court approves any annual accounting or final accounting filed by the guardian or temporary guardian under this chapter. A fee of five percent of the gross income of the ward's estate and five percent of all money paid out of the estate, subject to the award of an additional amount under Subsection (c) of this section following a review under Subsection (c)(1) of this section, is considered reasonable under this subsection if the court finds that the guardian or temporary guardian has taken care of and managed the estate in compliance with the standards of this chapter.

(c) On application of an interested person or on its own motion, the court may:

(1) review and modify the amount of compensation authorized under Subsection (a) or Subsection (b) of this section if the court finds that the amount is unreasonably low when considering the services rendered as guardian or temporary guardian; and

(2) authorize compensation for the guardian or temporary guardian in an estimated amount the court finds reasonable that is to be paid on a quarterly basis before the guardian or temporary guardian files an annual or final accounting if the court finds that delaying the payment of compensation until the guardian or temporary guardian files an accounting would create a hardship for the guardian or temporary guardian.

(d) A finding of unreasonably low compensation may not be established under Subsection (c) of this section solely because the amount of compensation is less than the usual and customary charges of the person or entity serving as guardian or temporary guardian. A court that authorizes payment of estimated quarterly compensation under Subsection (c) of this section may later reduce or eliminate the guardian's or temporary guardian's compensation if, on review of an annual or final accounting or otherwise, the court finds that the guardian or temporary guardian:

(1) received compensation in excess of the amount permitted under this section;

(2) has not adequately performed the duties required of a guardian or temporary guardian under this chapter; or

(3) has been removed for cause.

(d-1) If a court reduces or eliminates a guardian's or temporary guardian's compensation as provided by Subsection (d) of this section, the guardian or temporary guardian and the surety on the guardian's or temporary guardian's bond are liable to the guardianship estate for any excess compensation received.

(b) If amendments to the same statute are enacted at the same session of the legislature, one amendment without reference to another, the amendments shall be harmonized, if possible, so that effect may be given to each. If the amendments are irreconcilable, the latest in date of enactment prevails.

(c) In determining whether amendments to the same statute enacted at the same session of the legislature are irreconcilable, text that is reenacted because of the requirement of Article III, Section 36, of the Texas Constitution is not considered to be irreconcilable with additions or omissions in the same text made by another amendment. Unless clearly indicated to the contrary, an amendment that reenacts text in compliance with that constitutional requirement does not indicate legislative intent that the reenacted text prevail over changes in the same text made by another amendment, regardless of the relative dates of enactment.

(d) In this section, the date of enactment is the date on which the last legislative vote is taken on the bill enacting the statute.

(e) If the journals or other legislative records fail to disclose which of two or more bills in conflict is latest in date of enactment, the date of enactment of the respective bills is considered to be, in order of priority:

(1) the date on which the last presiding officer signed the bill;

(2) the date on which the governor signed the bill; or

1. available funds of the ward's estate; or

2. subject to Subsection (c) of this section, the county treasury if:

(A) the ward's estate is insufficient to pay for the services provided by the attorney; and
(B) funds in the county treasury are budgeted for that purpose.

(c) The court may authorize the payment of attorney's fees from the county treasury under Subsection (a) of this section only if the court is satisfied that the attorney to whom the fees will be paid has not received, and is not seeking, payment for the services described by that subsection from any other source.

(a)-(c) [No change]

The trustee shall state in such petition the basis for its belief that a beneficiary would object. The failure or refusal of a beneficiary to sign a waiver or release is not reasonable grounds for a trustee to believe the beneficiary will object. The court may appoint one or more guardians ad litem or attorneys ad litem pursuant to Section 115.014 [of this subtitle]. If the petition describes the proposed exercise or nonexercise of the power and contains sufficient information to inform the beneficiaries of the reasons for the proposal, the facts upon which the trustee relies, and an explanation of how the income and remainder beneficiaries will be affected by the proposed exercise or nonexercise of the power, a beneficiary who challenges the proposed exercise or nonexercise has the burden of establishing that it will result in an abuse of discretion. The trustee shall advance from the trust principal all costs incident to the judicial determination, including the reasonable attorney's fees and costs of the trustee, any beneficiary or beneficiaries who are parties to the action and who retain counsel, and any guardian ad litem and any attorney ad litem. At the conclusion of the proceeding, the court may award costs and reasonable and necessary attorney's fees as provided in Section 114.064 [of this subtitle], including, if the court considers it appropriate, awarding part or all of such costs against the trust principal or income, awarding part or all of such costs against one or more beneficiaries or such beneficiary's share of the trust, or awarding part or all of such costs against the trustee in the trustee's individual capacity, if the court determines that the trustee's exercise or nonexercise of discretionary power would have resulted in an abuse of discretion or that the trustee did not have reasonable grounds for believing one or more beneficiaries would object to the proposed exercise or nonexercise of the discretionary power.

Amended by Acts 2009, 81st Legislature, Ch. ____(HB 2368), effective September 1, 2009. Sections 10(b) and (c) of HB 2368 provide: “(b) Except as otherwise expressly provided by the will, the terms of the trust, or this Act, the changes in law made by this Act apply to:

“(1) a trust existing or created on or after September 1, 2009;

“(2) the estate of a decedent who dies before September 1, 2009, if the probate or administration of the estate is pending as of September 1, 2009; and

“(3) the estate of a decedent who dies on or after September 1, 2009.

“(c) For a trust existing on September 1, 2009, that was created before that date, the changes in law made by this Act apply only to an act or omission relating to the trust that occurs on or after September 1, 2009.”

(a) In this section:

(1) “Future payment asset” means the asset from which a payment is derived.
(2) "Payment" means a payment that a trustee may receive over a fixed number of years or during the lifetime of one or more individuals because of services rendered or property transferred to the payer in exchange for future payments. The term includes a payment made in money or property from the payer's general assets or from a separate fund created by the payer, including a private or commercial annuity, an individual retirement account, and a pension, profit-sharing, stock-bonus, or stock-ownership plan.

(3) "Separate fund" includes a private or commercial annuity, an individual retirement account, and a pension, profit-sharing, stock-bonus, or stock-ownership plan.

(b)-(g) [No change]

(h) Subsections (i) and (k) apply and Subsections (b) and (c) do not apply in determining the allocation of a payment made from a separate fund to:

(1) a trust to which an election to qualify for a marital deduction under Section 2056(b)(7), Internal Revenue Code of 1986, has been made; or

(2) a trust that qualifies for the marital deduction under Section 2056(b)(5), Internal Revenue Code of 1986 [If, to obtain an estate tax marital deduction for a trust, a trustee must allocate more of a payment to income than provided for by this section, the trustee shall allocate to income the additional amount necessary to obtain the marital deduction].

(i) Subsections (h), (j), and (k) do not apply if and to the extent that a series of payments would, without the application of Subsection (h), qualify for the marital deduction under Section 2056(b)(7)(C), Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(j) The trustee shall determine the internal income of the separate fund for the accounting period as if the separate fund were a trust subject to this code. On request of the surviving spouse, the trustee shall demand of the person administering the separate fund that this internal income be distributed to the trust. The trustee shall allocate a payment from the separate fund to income to the extent of the internal income of the separate fund, and the balance to the principal. On request of the surviving spouse, the trustee shall allocate principal to income to the extent the internal income of the separate fund exceeds payments made to the trust during the accounting period from the separate fund.

(k) If the trustee cannot determine the internal income of the separate fund but can determine the value of the separate fund, the internal income of the separate fund shall be four percent of the fund's value, according to the most recent statement of value preceding the beginning of the accounting period. If the trustee can determine neither the internal income of the separate fund nor the fund's value, the internal income of the fund shall be the product of the interest rate and the present value of the expected future payments, as determined under Section 7520, Internal Revenue Code of 1986, for the month preceding the accounting period for which the computation is made.

Sec. 312.014. IRRECONCILABLE AMENDMENTS.

(a) If statutes enacted at the same or different sessions of the legislature are irreconcilable, the statute latest in date of enactment prevails.

(b) If amendments to the same statute are enacted at the same session of the legislature, one amendment without reference to another, the amendments shall be harmonized, if possible, so that effect may be given to each. If the amendments are irreconcilable, the latest in date of enactment prevails.

(c) In determining whether amendments to the same statute enacted at the same session of the legislature are irreconcilable, text that is reenacted because of the requirement of Article III, Section 36, of the Texas Constitution is not considered to be irreconcilable with additions or omissions in the same text made by another amendment. Unless clearly indicated to the contrary, an amendment that reenacts text in compliance with that constitutional requirement does not indicate legislative intent that the reenacted text prevail over changes in the same text made by another amendment, regardless of the relative dates of enactment.

(d) In this section, the date of enactment is the date on which the last legislative vote is taken on the bill enacting the statute.

(e) If the journals or other legislative records fail to disclose which of two or more bills in conflict is latest in date of enactment, the date of enactment of the respective bills is considered to be, in order of priority:

(1) the date on which the last presiding officer signed the bill;

(2) the date on which the governor signed the bill; or

(3) the date on which the bill became law by operation of law.

To the extent of a conflict between this subsection and any provision of the Texas Probate Code providing for venue of a proceeding brought with respect to a charitable trust created by a will that has been admitted to probate, this subsection controls.

An action or proceeding commenced before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect on the date the action was filed or the proceeding was commenced, and the former law is continued in effect for that purpose.”

Sec. 123.006. ATTORNEY’S FEES.

(a) In a proceeding subject to Section 123.005, the attorney general, if successful in the proceeding, is entitled to recover from the charitable entity or fiduciary or managerial agent of the charitable trust actual costs incurred in bringing the suit and may recover reasonable attorney’s fees.

(b) In a proceeding in which the attorney general intervenes under this chapter, other than a proceeding subject to Section 123.005, a court may award the attorney general court costs and reasonable and necessary attorney's fees as may seem equitable and just.

Amended by Acts 2009, 81st Legislature, Ch.____ (SB 918), effective September 1, 2009.
